

Qholaqhoe, Lesotho

During the pandemic, the borders have remained closed. Wearing masks is still in effect and strictly enforced. Schools have remained open with on-line learning, staggered days, staggered grades, just as has happened in Wayne County.

The good news is that the Lesotho Ministry of Health has received enough vaccines for the population of Lesotho, 1.8 million people. The United States and other countries have made large donations of vaccines available to Lesotho.

The schools will get back to “normal” and the ministry to the orphans in the community continues despite the pandemic.
